MACON AT FAIR

Making a beautiful picture as the setting sun reflects from its silver sides, the giant dirigible Macon is shown hovering over the world's fair, in Chicago, giving exposition crowds a thrill. The huge ship will soon leave its dock at Akron, O., to be turned over to the navy.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The mysterious insect found by Edward A. Davis of Water street is an adult hellgramite, which is common in this district, although few are seen because they are night flyers. The larvae lives in the water for several years, before changing into the insect form.

Within the space of a week's time the weather conditions went from record breaking heat for June to a light frost. There was a record heat a week ago, and this morning a light frost covered the landscape in this territory. It is not believed that any extensive damage was caused by the frost, farmers say.

The North Beaver township district seems to be raising a larger acreage of corn this summer than in previous years. And while we are discussing North Beaver, Pa. News is inclined to believe that the claims of old Missouri as the best farming region in the world can be very strongly challenged by the North Beaver district.

A new type of bus was operating on the west side and Jefferson street yesterday. It was more in the nature of a street car on wheels than the auto bus type of car that has been in use.

Cool weather prompts Superintendent Ben J. Watkins of the City Rescue Mission to call for used stoves. The call comes because others are needing them—can you help? And perhaps you have beds and other furniture that needy folk might use.

County Treasurer William O. Hitt reports that two more beverage licenses have been issued, reducing the unissued list to eleven. There are still eight wholesale applications on which the licenses have not been issued.

Confesses Slaying Philadelphia Girl

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The brutal slaying of Rose McCloskey, pretty 19-year-old salesgirl, last January 5 in Fairmount Park, was solved today with the confession of Richard Bach, police announced. Each, described as a member of a gang of hoodlums who prey on trusting couples in the park, confessed he attacked the girl and her sweetheart, Dennis Boyle, 30, as they were embracing on a park bench, police said.

Bach admitted stunning Boyle with a heavy stone and then beating the girl with the handle of a hunting knife, according to detectives.

Heavy Crop Damage Reported In District

(By International News Service)
Heavy crop damage was reported in Pennsylvania today as unseasonal temperatures dropped into the lower twenties in some sections, sweeping away all traces of the abnormal heat wave of a week ago.

In almost every Western Pennsylvania City, record-breaking low temperatures for June 15 were recorded. Kane reported the lowest temperature in the state, with thermometers reading 23 early this morning. Heavy frost covered the ground and slight snow flurries had fallen.

In Fayette county crops were badly "nipped" by heavy frost in Indian Head and other places in the mountains sections in the eastern part of the county. Tomato, cucumber, potato, and corn crops were seriously affected as the temperature stood at 33, one degree above the freezing point.

Pittsburgh's official low was 41, although in suburban Mt. Lebanon, the low was 32. Crops were believed to have been damaged in this section also.

Fruit orchard owners reported the unseasonal weather probably will result in heavy losses.

(International News Service)
GEORGIOLOGICAL MUSEUM, LONDON, June 15.—James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio and 1920 Democratic presidential candidate, today was elected chairman of the important monetary committee of the world economic conference.

Cox's appointment had been fought by both the French and British delegates.
In announcing acceptance of his post to International News Service, Cox said:
"At the request of the French delegation and after assuring advocates of the gold standard that I will be with them, I have no belief in monetary experiments."
The French had opposed selection of an American chairman on the ground that America was off the gold standard.

Roosevelt Faces First Crisis In Leadership Test

Overwhelmingly Democratic House May Join Senate In Revolt On Veterans' Economy

PRESIDENT HAS THREATENED VETO

First Time In Memory Republicans Vote Solidly On Controversial Issue

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Roosevelt faced the first major crisis in his legislative leadership today as an overwhelmingly Democratic house showed signs of joining the senate in revolt against his veteran's economy program.

The test was to come in the house on the issue of liberalizing slashes in compensation to disabled World War Veterans. Administration leaders fought desperately to hold the house for the president's plan, which would lighten the veteran's slashes by $100,000,000 a year. There was the danger though that the house would join the senate revolt by adopting the Steiwer-Cutting plan, which liberalized the slashes by $130,000,000.

The president was reported ready to use his veto power to smash down the congressional rebellion.

Prolongs Session
The revolt prolonged the session of congress to the dismay of administration leaders. It served to provide the president's opposition with a forum for comparing his attitude

UNOFFICIAL LOW PLACED AT 32

It was just the opposite today for he was shivering.
An all time record breaking low for June 15 was established here today when the temperature dropped to 41. Seven days ago all heat records for June 8 were broken.

An unofficial low of 32 was reported in Mt. Lebanon, a suburb.

Wurtemburg Bridge Opened For Travel

County Commissioner Elmer Conner reports that the Wurtemburg bridge, known as the "middle" bridge, was thrown open to traffic today. Mr. Conner was one of the first persons to drive over the bridge. The bridge is a fine structure, and is much more convenient than the old one, on account of the elimination of a sharp curve. Considerable work was given to Wurtemburg residents during its construction. It is now possible to drive to the eastern part of Wurtemburg, but there is no way of crossing the Slippery Rock at the second bridge, which is still under construction.

Constables To Aid In Personal School Tax Collection Here

Board Believes Too Many On Exonerations List Who Can Pay

DRASTIC MEASURES ORDERED BY BOARD

No approval of the exonerations list for personal school taxes was made Wednesday night by the New Castle School Board. The list, containing over $60,000 of uncollected personal school taxes was sent back to the tax collector, L. W. McClung with instructions to make every effort to collect them and "to use the authority of his office if necessary to collect where it is thought the taxpayer is able to pay."

Mr. McClung was present at the meeting and replied that he would use every available means to collect a portion at least of these taxes. Starting with the Second ward, the collection is to be put into the hands of the constable and where people who can pay, do not pay, the constable will follow his attempt at collection with a warrant.

Opened By McIlvenney
The matter of exonerations was opened by Director J. Herbert McIlvenney. "I do not feel free to vote for exonerations of this total amount asked for because there are too many people on it," said he. "I am of the opinion there should be a greater effort made to collect this tax and if it means making an example of some people then I am in favor of that."

"Many of the names on the list before us are property owners. The property tax can be filed as a lien, but the personal taxes cannot. These people are as able to pay as I am, and I will not vote to exonerate the collector from these taxes until I am certain that every effort has been made to collect."

Some Can Pay

Said Mrs. John E. Elliott, "I notice names on the exonerations list of people who have three or four cars. It seems to me they can pay their personal school taxes."
Said A. C. Hyde, addressing L. W. McClung, "after we exonerate the list of taxes, isn't it a fact that no effort is made to collect the taxes?"

Head Of G. A. R. Dies Suddenly

National Commander Found Dead In Bed At Pittsburgh

MADE ADDRESS AT STATE CONVENTION

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 15.—Death visited the Pennsylvania state convention of the grand army of the Republic today, striking at the head of the column to take Captain William P. Wright of Chicago, national commander of the "boys in blue."

Wright was found dead in bed in his hotel room where he retired last night after addressing a flag day ceremony held as part of the state convention which closes today.

He apparently died peacefully in his sleep, probably of a heart attack. He was 83. A hotel clerk found him when he went to wake him.

Wright came to Pittsburgh alone by train to address the convention and attend installation of officers. His comrades said he told them he was "feeling fine" when they left him last night.
Capt. Wright also was a former commander of the Illinois department of the G. A. R.

Heavy Frost Is Seen This Morning

Believe Atmospheric Conditions Prevented Heavy Damage To Crops

Although a heavy frost was noticed this morning, it is not believed that any serious damage was caused to crops.
The minimum temperature was 35 degrees, the official weather report disclosed, three degrees above the freezing point.
County Farm Agent Harold C. McCulloch stated this morning that it would be impossible to determine the full extent of the damage done for several days yet.
There was a good bit of moisture in the air and the ground was still pretty warm, he explained, which would tend to cut down the possibility of severe damage. It is possible that tender plants may have been wilted some, he stated, but felt that the damage would not be serious.

Believe U. S. Now Forced Into Position For New Debt Agreements

(International News Service)
The semi-annual installment on the foreign debts owed by European nations to the United States fell due today.

Great Britain announced payment of $10,000,000 in silver as an acknowledgement of the $75,950,000 due.

France and Belgium indicated their intention of again defaulting. Part payments will bring America's receipts to 10 per cent of the $143,000,000 due.

It was learned Britain is ready to send a debt mission to Washington if President Roosevelt expresses a desire to deal direct with the government on the issue. Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, may head the mission.
The debt situation overshadowed deliberations of the world economic conference, where oratory held sway.

Britain To Pay U. S. In Silver

Twenty Million Ounces Of Silver Stacked In Basement Of Bank Of England

$10,000,000 IS PAID ON DEBT

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 15.—Twenty million ounces of silver, representing Britain's $10,000,000 billion payment on her foreign debt to the United States, were stacked alongside of this country's gold reserves in the vaults of the Bank of England today.

Shipped in wooden boxes from India in recent weeks, the treasure was stored in the subterranean caverns of the bank, deep below London's famous Threadneedle street.

While Britain exulted in the adjustment which, in the opinion of President Roosevelt, permits her to escape default without making the full payment of $75,950,000 due today, bank officials carefully marked all the boxes "property of the United States federal treasury."

The metal was thus earmarked for the convenient use of the United States just as was done with gold last December when Britain paid her interest and principal in full.

Arthur Mometer

The beans that once stood proudly up and faced the summer sun, are warped and wilted, and they hang their heads down, for they're done. The corn is blighted in the blade, tomatoes show it too, and egg plant that was booming on it seems as though is through. And all the trouble came about when Jack Frost hit the patch and with his imp with sharpened claws, proceeded then to scratch, and bit the plants and laid them low, they're ruined you can see, for frost in June is not so good, the weather's sixty three.

MANY ATTEND GASTON SCHOOL REUNION

Former Pupils Again Assemble

Gathering On Wednesday
At Home Of Mr. And
Mrs. A. E. Yoho

FOUNDER McKAY
ATTENDS REUNION

Reunion of the former members of the Gaston Sunday School held Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Yoho of Katherine street, was one of the outstanding of such events held, both in the number of people attending and the very delightful time that all enjoyed.

This event, like all the others, was held in honor of the memory of John A. McKay, founder and leader of the Sunday School, who died the first anniversary of the year in which the first picnic of the Sunday School was held, in Wright's Woods.

The fact of this anniversary was made more interesting by the presence of several persons, who attended this first picnic. They were Mrs. George W. Weinschenk, Albert Yoho, Ida McKay, Mamie McKay Magill, Sidney McKay, Lida Geiger, McConahy, Maude Whinnery, Hamilton, Frances Rigby Shoff, Annie Albion Weinschenk, Jennie Kelly Schweigert, Annetta Butler, James Moore, Kate Barber Black and Rose Cochran Book.

Four members of the founder's family were present: Mrs. A. E. Yoho, Mrs. H. F. Magill and Mrs. Sidney McKay of St. Cloud, Florida, also five grandchildren and six great grandchildren of the founder.

Oldest Present
The oldest member of the school present was Mrs. G. W. Weinschenk, aged 83, while the youngest person present at the affair was Shirley Ann Dean, aged one year, a descendant of one of the members of the famous Sunday School.

Included in the group present yesterday was a number of the former pupils of the Sheep Hill school, former pupils of that school having been invited to join with the Gaston Sunday School members in the event. Included in the fun of the reunion was many references made to Sheep Hill School, which was known in those days as "Rut-ter's College."

Mrs. Frances Rigby Shoff, a former teacher of the school, was a special guest of the occasion on Wednesday.

Dinner was served at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon on tables arranged on the beautiful lawn of the Yoho home. The tables were beautiful with numerous bouquets of flowers, flags and other decorations, which had been arranged by the host and hostess. A most bounteous repast was served and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Covers were laid for forty-eight.

After the dinner, the entire group adjourned to the large living room of the Yoho home, where the annual business meeting was held, and where an interesting program was carried out.

Officers Elected

Officers elected were: president, Mrs. Howard F. Magill; vice-president, Mrs. Mary Cooper Caldwel; secretary, Miss M. B. Buecher; treasurer, A. E. Yoho. It was decided to hold the next reunion on the second Wednesday of June 1934 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yoho, who extended an invitation for the group to return next year.

During the social period of the afternoon, Mrs. Minnie Kemp Tindall gave several very interesting and humorous readings, while Sidney McKay, also gave some readings and an interesting talk on his days in school and told of some of the pranks that the boys pulled at the old Sheep Hill School.

Much interest centered about the table on which was displayed photographs and autographs of the good old days in the Gaston Sunday School and Sheep Hill School. Included in the display were a number of quilts started in the early days of the school by some of the members, also some quilts made in recent years by these former members or their descendants.

Another interesting incident of the occasion was the looking over of an old fashioned button string, on which buttons were the names of those giving them.

Much of the afternoon was spent in reminiscing. A large group picture was taken, also a number of pictures of smaller groups. Sidney McKay of St. Cloud, Florida, a son of the founder, had a box of oranges from Florida, which he not only distributed to those in attendance, but which he saw to it, reached absent members, who were unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Yoho were tendered a vote of thanks for their very fine hospitality on the occasion. Due to the increasing interest on the part of many of the younger generations, it is planned to keep these reunions going on for many years.

CONSTABLES TO AID
IN PERSONAL SCHOOL
TAX COLLECTION HERE

"No," said Mr. McClung, "we try to collect what we can of the list, even after the exoneration. In the present instance we are making a list of the people we think can afford to pay and will put this list in the hands of the constable in the second ward."

No Power After Exoneration
"If we exonerate you have no power to enforce collection have you?" asked Hyde of McClung.

"No I have no power after exoneration," said McClung. "A lot of people are wise to this fact and refuse to pay knowing that when we exonerate they cannot be forced to pay. For that reason I do not intend to vote for exoneration until more drastic means are used to collect part of this tax."

Jail Threat Looms
Hazen then moved to resubmit the list of exonerations to Mr. McClung and instruct him to use the authority of his office to collect all the tax on the exonerated list that is possible. This means jail for people who can pay and will not pay.

McClung was asked Wednesday night if he had taken anybody to jail for refusal to pay the tax. He answered that he had never had to get to the jail door with them as the threat of it had brought the money.

Anyway, the Senate investigation has enabled us to see through Glass.

New Bedford Flower Show

Exhibits This Year Beautiful
And Arrangements
Cleverly Fashioned

Hundreds wandered in and out about the Town Hall of New Bedford Wednesday afternoon and evening to view the sixth annual flower show of the New Bedford Garden Club.

The exhibits this year were unusually beautiful, so the judges had a hard time making the decisions for the awards. Most attractive were the breakfast table arrangements and the miniature kitchenettes, showing an artistic arrangement for the home.

Another table held pictures of flower arrangements and these were then copied by the club exhibitors and were most clever and handsome.

Outstanding also were the tray arrangements for serving an invalid and indeed some of the trays would have tempted the most jaded appetite, without the addition of food. The children's exhibits showed much thought and time had been spent by the little ones in vying with the older members.

Judging the show were Mrs. W. C. Echenroad, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, Mrs. William Howley, Mrs. Allan Urmon and Mrs. W. C. Kennedy, members of the Lawrence County Garden Club.

Mrs. Colin Campbell won the award for the most entries as well as the most points. A Temple-Bradley medal was awarded Betty Brown for the most outstanding exhibit in the children's department, and the door prize went to Mrs. Russell Brown.

FATHER COX IS

unable to be present because of illness.

The meeting was opened with the singing of America, led by Joe McCall, who also introduced Mayor Charles B. Mayne as the chairman of the evening.

Mayor Mayne Chairman
In introducing Father Cox, Mayor Mayne took advantage of the occasion to explain to the large group assembled in the grove, that Cascade Park had been taken over by the citizens of New Castle.

Mayor Mayne stated that not one cent of tax money would be used in the maintenance of the park. He said that the receipts of the park would pay for the expense or that money would come from some other source to keep it up, but that the members of council had pledged themselves to abstain from raising any taxes to keep the park going.

Father Cox Speaks
Father Cox, in his address, went back to the founding of this country and traced its history from the beginning. He showed how the soldiers of this country had created it, preserved it, and protected it, from the time of the Revolution through the World War.

"The Minute Men of '76, armed with pitchforks and the crudest of weapons, wrested the United States from one of the greatest armies of that known time, the soldiers of Great Britain," he said.

"In 1812, our heroic forefathers again preceded it from invasion, and in 1861 those valiant boys in Blue preserved it, that it might continue to be a land of freedom and liberty. In 1888, our boys went to free a people oppressed by a foreign tyrant and in 1917, the boys of the World War answered their country's call in the cause of justice and right."

"If these men had never offered themselves, there would never have been this great old country. A hundred thousand made it, and millions have since preserved it. Because of what they have done, we have a nation of 48 little countries, nestled under the old stary banner of freedom."

No Money For Soldier

"They did not take men into the army who were not physically fit. He had to be a man. Out of a population of 130,000,000 people, there were only five million who could serve. They gave everything they had to preserve the best and noblest in tradition."

"While they slept in the water in trenches, their friends back home were making $12 to $20 a day. When they came back many of them had no jobs, many of them had lost their businesses, and some of them had even lost their wives. Now they say unto them, 'We have no money for the soldiers. He's just a bum.'"

Father Cox here attacked the members of the so-called Economy League, naming Admiral Byrd, whom he charged, tried to give the land he discovered at the South Pole to England. "He gets a pension of $6,500 per year and has done nothing but pose for the cameras," he stated.

Attacks Man Of Wealth
In turn, he mentioned General Pershing, whom he charged was no better than the men serving the 'House of Morgan,' "he is now serving the same gang," he stated.

He then turned to the men of wealth in this country who have invested their money in tax free securities, stating that there are seventy-two billion dollars worth of such securities in existence in this country.

"These very men that own these securities and are evading paying any tax to our government, want to cut the soldiers off entirely. They want to force them into the bread line, and if they do, who is going to pay the taxes to maintain them? It won't be these rich men, but the man who owns his little home and is struggling to keep body and soul together himself."

"You will never do right until you take the money from these fellows and give it back to the soldiers. These men ought at least to be paid as much as the slaves in old Rome were. If the government was not afraid of men like Morgan, they would take what is due them. We ought to put the men who made the laws by which they escape into jail or shoot them as traitors."

Father Cox then turned to the private bankers, whom he charged have stolen more in the last sixty years than they can ever pay back. In Canada, he charged there has only been two bank failures in fifty years. In China, there has been none since the time of Columbus, because they cut the heads off people over there.

Must Be Americans
In conclusion, he urged his audience to stand by what they think of the country their just dues. "They sacrificed everything that was dear and dear to them, so that you might have the right to enjoy the privileges of liberty so dear to us all. If the message of the Liberty Bell is to continue to be heard throughout the land, you must be as the Unknown Soldier buried in Arlington cemetery, 100 per cent Americans."

DEBTOR NATIONS
EVADE PAYMENT
DUE UNCLE SAM

intention to make this partial payment was brought to the state department by Augusto Rosso, Italian ambassador. Before going in to see Acting Secretary of State Phillips, Rosso revealed his government's intention of making the $1,000,000 payment.

Europe Scores.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Europe today scored its first important victory in the latest drive to virtually wipe out the 11 billion dollars in debts owed this nation.

With one group of debtor nations led by France defaulting outright, and another group led by Great Britain threatening to default on the $144,000,000 due this government today, President Roosevelt was forced into a position where he was faced with accepting small partial payments or getting nothing at all.

The president decided to take what he could get.

The amount of the partial payments expected from Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, and possibly one or two other debtor nations, however, will total only about ten per cent of the $144,000,000 due.

Force U. S. To Accept.

Thus, the debtors have succeeded in forcing upon the United States at least one payment which is in line with the Lausanne plan for a dime-on-the-dollar final settlement of Europe's debts to this country.

Furthermore, Great Britain has paved the way for a general discussion of the debt situation with a view to drastic reduction by requesting a hearing for a new final settlement.

Although expressing willingness to listen to what Britain may have to say, the president has served notice congress will have the final word in deciding whether the debts are to be revised.

Britain Pays in Silver Also.

With the canny astuteness traditional of British dealings in foreign fields, Great Britain informed the president of its intention to pay $10,000,000 and then after obtaining word of the president's willingness to receive this payment, its chamberlain announced the payment would be made in silver, which at present prices makes the payment only about $7,200,000 in terms of gold.

Thus, after originally offering to pay nearly 14 per cent of the $75,000,000 British payment, Britain actually will pay less than 10 per cent in terms of gold.

President Roosevelt was very careful to avoid committing this government to any new debt policy by its acceptance of the partial payments. In fact, he made no mention of accepting the payment in his note to the British government, merely "noting" that accompanying the British note "is a payment of ten million dollars 'an acknowledgment of the debt pending a final settlement.'"

Many Children At Cascade Park

Large Number Gather To Celebrate "Kiddies Day" Outing

Hundreds of children hurried to Cascade Park early today and by noon a large crowd had gathered there to celebrate Kiddies Day according to C. C. Coulthard. The supervisor of the park said that the children came from all directions and in various sorts of conveyances, some in buggies, others in automobiles, additional ones on street cars and a large number walked to the recreation center.

All of the amusement at the park operated at a rate less than charged on other days and the children and parents alike were able to purchase ice cream cones, "pop", peanuts and "pop"-corn at cut prices.

Cascade Boulevard Further Improved

Plan To Place Gravel On Cascade Boulevard In Near Future

Ties are being removed, holes filled, brush removed and a concrete culvert constructed in Cascade Boulevard, which runs from Hamilton street to the lower section of Cascade Park. The right of way of the street car company now commonly called Cascade boulevard is much improved in appearance as a result of the Work Relief employees labors.

When the city assumed control of the park it was decided to make a good highway out of the right of way. Approximately 50 men are at work along the stretch this week. When sufficient progress has been made gravel will be placed on the curaway.

STORE'S PERSONNEL HOLDS DINNER-DANCE

Celebrating a significant May sales triumph, the full force of 100 New Castle Dry Goods store employees gathered at a New Wilmington inn last night for an enjoyable dinner-dance, the reward store officials promised if they surpassed a certain goal.

The store's personnel boarded automobiles at the store at 5:45 o'clock, arriving in the college town, to find dinner about ready for them. A popular orchestra played as the group dined.

When the dinner was over, A. L. Blintz, associate manager of the store, assumed the toastmaster's role for the short program which came between the dinner and dancing. At this time he awarded coveted prizes for the concentrated sales effort which reduced the store's ladies' hosiery stock by 8,200 pairs and brought increased business in other departments.

Mr. Blintz, speaking for John W. Staudinger, store manager, now away on a business trip, praised the employees for their genuine support. To Mrs. Carolyn Richards he presented the first prize, while Miss Peg Travers won the second. Over 50 other cash and merchandise prizes were distributed.

Present to witness the awarding were Arthur Waldo and L. R. Keough, managers of the Sharon Dry Goods Store. They were the only guests.

Since officials planned to let the employees enjoy themselves, the prize presentations constituted the only speaking. From nine until midnight dancing and cards were enjoyed.

Moonlight Hike

Although the young people had to don sweaters and heavy coats Tuesday evening, the coolness of the weather did not deter them from taking the moonlight hike to McConnell's Mills, as planned.

About nine o'clock the motors started to Rose Point and here they were abandoned, the young people striking across the fields for the Mills, but after a couple hours of traveling they found they were lost, and seating themselves on the ground they took a view of the skies and with some astronomical figuring they got directions straightened out and at last reached their destination.

After a lunch they started back to the city, feeling highly exhilarated by the evening's outing.

NEW BEAUTY AT ONCE

When 5 Common Skin Faults Are Corrected by this Famous Medicated Cream

LARGE PORES, PIMPLES,
BLACKHEADS, OILINESS,
or FLAKY SKIN

SKIN FAULTS ALL GONE
—CLEAR, FINE BEAUTY
BACK AGAIN

NEW beauty—soft, fine-textured skin—healthy, radiant loveliness! That's what comes to you when you clear away the five common every-day skin flaws that rob you of beauty.

And how to end these skin faults? Correct their cause—the hidden, invisible poisons that gradually clog up the pores. Ordinary soaps and creams fail to reach these poisons—they simply cleanse the surface.

A method has been found that does end pore poisons—a scientific formula that doctors have prescribed for years! It's Noxzema Skin Cream.

How it works

Noxzema is so much more effective because it is medicated, vanishing—because its medication penetrates deeper and purges away all hidden, disgusting pore poisons—because it beautifies your skin by making it healthy. Its suppling oils and cool stimulating astringents then soothe, soften and refine the coarsened skin texture. Noxzema works so quickly because it acts all the time—day and night! Massage it in at night after removing make-up. In the morning apply before powdering as a corrective foundation—so it works all day long, too.

Try it tonight and see for yourself why 6,000,000 American women use Noxzema and are delighted with the clear perfection of healthy beauty it brings.

SO MILLIONS CAN TRY IT...

This week the regular 25c jar of Noxzema is reduced to only 15c. Present this coupon at:

TAX SLACKERS

THOSE who purposely evade or attempt to evade payment of taxes do not cheat the government, every citizen being a part of the government, but are imposing on all who do pay their taxes. The government must have so much revenue and those who fail to pay their share are only increasing the tax burdens of better citizens.

It is estimated by the treasury department at Washington that one of every 22 citizens is a tax dodger. This means that millions are shirking some portion of their duties as citizens, although all enjoy their full share of the benefits of citizenship.

There might be less tax evasion if more people looked upon payment of taxes as a civic duty rather than as a penalty of citizenship. Probably most tax dodgers believe they are withholding from extravagant governments and gouging politicians, rather than heaping new burdens on fellow citizens.

END OF THE MARTIANS

The massacre of an innocent population is always tragic, but the recent sudden death of all the inhabitants of the planet Mars calls for special lamentation. Well—not exactly dead, for they never were born. Nevertheless, we must think of Dr. Walter S. Adams and Dr. Theodore Dunham, Jr., as executioners, for it is their observations, conducted at the Mount Wilson Observatory since November, and their announcement to the effect that the atmosphere of Mars contains less than 1 per cent, probably less than one-tenth of 1 per cent, of oxygen, that has done for our nearest neighbors. The learned astronomers seem singularly cold-hearted about it. They are not interested in speculations about the possibility or impossibility of life on Mars; "ours," they say, "is a purely scientific investigation."

We shall miss the Martians, who are probably as incapable of maintaining life upon a ration of one-half of 1 per cent by volume of oxygen as are Americans of remaining temperate on a similar restriction of their alcohol. We shall miss them, with their fertile canals, their eternally misty sky, their vast intelligences and their single eyes set in a wheel-like body. We shall miss them not merely because they were the only other plausible inhabitants of a cold and lonely universe but because of their profound influence upon our own corner of it. It was the Martians who were always traveling to the Earth (in books) and exclaiming upon the absurdities of our civilization; it was the Martians who (also in books) had worked out an ideal society in which eugenics had enslaved Cupid, the future had triumphed over the cash register and No One Was Ever Selfish; it was Mars that should be our first stepping stone to the wonders of infinite space when rockets took the first men on the first journey away from our own jolly and well oxygenated little spheroid.

But now this can never be. . . Yet something in us cries out that it must be, that we cannot remain all alone. Pass once again, oh cruel astronomers, the stars and planets before your spectograph, nor rest until you find, somewhere, oxygen enough to support, if not life, at least the hope of other lives than ours.—The New York Herald Tribune.

TOO MUCH JOURNALISM AMONG NOTABLES

Democratic leadership deserves great credit for tackling current problems, and it is highly important that the party and its leaders at this time make no major blunders. Widespread comment has been aroused on the number of persons close to the president who are rushing into print. Among these is even one of the closest men to the president. Professor Raymond Moley, to say nothing of Colonel L. M. Howe.

Assistant Secretary of State Moley is adding to his already strenuous and taxing duties the writing of a newspaper column. The excuse he gives is that he needs the money for hotel bills. Members of the press have already suggested that if they posed as economists they would consider moving to a cheaper hotel. This may be more witty than wise. But the reaction of the public to any man with one good job trying to gobble up some other man's line is always one of resentment.

Moley will be in a bad fix from the start. He will at all times know many things from the inside which he will not dare publish. Every newspaperman knows what agony it is to know a quantity of matter which must not under any consideration be revealed. Besides, there is always the risk that inadvertently one may let a secret slip, or that in overstraining to keep his own counsel he may muddy the waters of public understanding, and do a lot of harm.

A good guess as to the newspaper column is that substantial aid in its production will come from Moley's star secretary, a young woman who knows his thoughts and speaks his language as the Beaver Falls Tribune. It is said that she can write the Moley line so well that nobody could tell the distinguished intellectual had not dictated the matter himself.

Professor Moley may be able to get away with journalism on the side, but for one of the big guns of the administration to be so hard put to pay his living expenses hardly seems like true Jeffersonian simplicity.

HELPING IDLE WOMEN

Government assistance for unemployed women is contemplated in a plan formulated by Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor.

As an experimental move, a camp is being established in New York state. It is somewhat similar to the federal camps provided for unemployed men, the chief difference being that those who take advantage of it will not be required to work and will receive no pay. Food and shelter will be given them, though, at the expense of the government, and vocational training will be provided. The latter feature ought to prove beneficial in helping them to obtain employment as industrial conditions improve.

Should the first camp prove successful, establishment of others probably would follow.

The experiment was decided on following complaint made to the president by unemployed women that, although federal work was being given enforced men victims of idleness the government's program made no provision for women similarly placed.

In the absence of any suitable forms of employment that could be given women by the government, the next best thing, it seems, is to provide them shelter and protection until the industrial and business pickup makes opportunities for them. Recreational facilities and vocational training should prove important aids in keeping up their morale during the waiting period.

The corroborative evidence in other directions gives it importance as a sign of business recovery.

Don't put all your eggs in one basket. At present prices it would bring no more than half a dollar if you did.

ONE OF MY ambitions is to have a pool-table of my own. My mother never suspected how much time I spent playing "straight pool" when I was a kid. It was my ambition, then, to be a "pool shark" and I almost attained it.

My brother's most delighted moment was the time I got arrested. He was generally regarded as much "tougher" than I was, but HE had never been arrested.

My idol was a tall stranger who wore spats and called the town telephone girls "Little Lady" when he called a number. . . Handsome Dan Nolan who played the piano in our motion picture house, also stirred my admiration.

The job I wanted most was leading the family cow home from pasture. "Leading" is hardly the word—she dragged a small boy most of the way.

I had a habit of tearing the corners from the pages in library books. . . I still chew paper.

Whenever I see a white horse I have an impulse to wet my right thumb, stick it into the palm of my left hand, and smack it with my right fist. . . That's for duck.

When I was a kid I could do a forward somersault dive. . . But not now.

I could "chin" myself 31 times on the limb of an apple tree, too. . . But never again.

I can't remember "funny stories."

If I ever got a hair-cut sooner than 10 days after I needed one, my barber wouldn't know what to think.

I prefer canned milk to fresh cream in coffee.

I've never been able to tell the exact truth when insurance doctors ask how much I smoke. . . And they know it.

But, nevertheless, I don't think I'm any siller than the average.

SELF-APPRAISAL

How does responsibility effect you?

Does it stimulate, inflate or fess you?

Answer this, and you can make a fair estimate of yourself.

The small person puffs up—gets chesty.

The one who is fussed becomes nervous because he is not sure of himself.

And the one who is the right sort has a deep sense of obligation and a desire to overcome the obstacles that confront him.

The person of real worth is not seeking the easy road, and the way of least resistance but the plan that will bring the best results eventually.

Sensing responsibility as a matter of trust, he gives of his best in mental and physical effort.

How have you reacted to responsibility which has been yours, either assumed or thrust upon you?

Have you over-emphasized the principal that the man at the directing point should keep himself free from any of the lesser details or duties.

You have heard that the successful man does not bother himself with anything but the big things.

Perhaps you have carried this to such an extent that you are ignorant of how small matters are carried out; thus you have failed of desired success.

Or set our lips to smiling.

At this we cannot cure?

Our hopes in deep destruction.

Have fallen to the ground.

Beneath a flood of trouble.

Now lies our future drowned.

Tis well enough to whisper.

That soon the tide will burn.

But how shall we recover?

Who are too old to learn?

I find no ready answer.

To questions such as these.

Perhaps some day our children.

Shall put our minds at ease.

Perhaps our loss their gain is.

And as the years advance.

These days of doubt and darkness.

May hold our children's chance.

Twas in our hearts to build them.

An easy road to fare.

But now the world will call them.

To stand face front to fate.

Till set their hands to tilling.

And bitter though it seems,

We may be soon rejoicing.

In their accomplished dreams.

Carnegie Steel Company Announces Policy To Deal
With Employees

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 15.—The movement toward "employee representation" in industry spread from the coal fields into the steel mills here today.

Acting under provisions of the industrial recovery act, officials of the Carnegie Steel Company announced a policy to deal collectively
with employees.

It marked the first time since the Homestead steel strike of 1892 that

Carnegie has offered to deal with employees collectively.

Under terms of the plan one representative will be elected by the workers to represent each 100 employees in the smaller plants and each 300 employees in the larger mills.

The election will be held June 23.
The representatives will voice their opinions in matters of working conditions and general industrial relations.

Abrogation of the plan may be effected by the company or by the majority of the representatives on three months notice.

Vascular disease, caused by thickening of the arteries, has been relieved by the use of low-pressure air chambers devised by Dr. Louis G.

ery is the result of a patient, who could hardly walk at sea level, discovering he could ski at a resort

ATTORNEY MARTIN INJURED BY AUTO

Attorney Charles G. Martin is confined to his bed at his summer cottage at Rose Point, as the result of an accident suffered several days ago.

Attorney Martin had parked his car near the cottage on a slope, and had neglected to set the brakes, the car backing down and striking him, running over both legs. Fortunately no bones were broken, but he sustained severe bruises.

Face dangers boldly. Death loves

Congress Shatters All Records, Give Roosevelt Powers

'Greatest Congressional Session In History Of Nation', Claims Are Made

Congress Has Worked Hand-In-Hand With President To Restore Prosperity

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The "honeymoon" session of the seventy-third congress now concluding has amassed one of the greatest legislative records in history by arming President Roosevelt with a vast array of extraordinary powers to restore prosperity, it is claimed.

The congress, elected in the overwhelming landslide of last November, shattered all precedents by giving the president powers never before conferred on a chief executive in peace time and by acting in record-breaking time, in less than one hundred days, it took America off the gold standard, revised banking laws, legalized beer, provided relief for agriculture, industry, property-owners and the unemployed, reorganized railroad administration and virtually balanced the budget.

Usual Investigations
There was the usual splasm of congressional investigations, climaxed by a probe into financial affairs of J. P. Morgan & Company. The highlights of this inquiry revealed the Morgan firm as dominating international banking, controlling railroads and utilities—and the partners as paying no income taxes in the last two years.

The president, backed by the tremendous public sentiment which carried him into the White House, dominated congress. It was perfectly amenable to his wishes when it came into session March 9. He won so much success when it hammered his first measures into enactment in record-shattering time that he held it a few extra weeks to complete his entire emergency program.

Principal Legislation
The principal legislation enacted, follows:

Finance
1. The president was authorized to suspend gold specie payments, to monetize silver, ban gold exports, issue $3,000,000,000 in paper currency and reduce the gold content of the dollar.
2. The president was empowered to cancel the "gold clause" in all public and private contracts.

3. He was authorized to accept silver payments from foreign debtor nations on all debts due within the next six months.

Prohibition
1. Congress legalized sale of beer and wines, containing not more than 3.2 percent alcohol by volume.
2. Removed restrictions on the issuance of whiskey and wine prescriptions by physicians.

Federal Economy
1. Authorized the president to reorganize all government bureaus and commissions in the interest of economy.
2. Ordered sweeping reductions in personnel in all government activities.
3. Directed enormous slashes in benefits to veterans of all wars.

Unemployment Relief
1. Appropriated $500,000,000 for direct federal grants to the states to feed, clothe and house the unemployed.
2. Created a new federal system of employment bureaus to cooperate with the states in finding jobs for the unemployed.
3. Authorized reforestation camps for employment of 275,000 workers.

Agricultural Relief
1. Created a farm relief organization, with power to fix prices, regulate marketing of crops, rent surplus acreage and pay bonuses to farmers for reducing production.
2. Authorized exchange of government owned cotton for pledges to reduce acreage.
3. Appropriated $2,000,000,000 to refinance farm mortgages on low interest rates over a long period of years.
4. Consolidated government farm credit agencies under new administrator to provide fresh avenues of low-rate credit for farmers.

Industrial Relief
1. Authorized the president to set aside anti-trust laws, so industry can enter fair trade agreements to economize in the marketing of its products. The president was empowered, through a federal licensing system, to stamp out sweat-shops and cut-throat competitive practices.
2. The federal government was authorized to effect railroad economies through a new administration, governed by a federal coordinator. While protecting railroad labor, the bill would permit consolidations and mergers to wipe out ruinous competition.

Public Works
1. Authorized a $3,300,000,000 public works program, the largest in history, to be financed by a bond issue. It provided for federal aid in construction of state and municipal projects, as well as construction loans to industry.

2. Set aside $400,000,000 for public highway construction.
3. Provided for government operation of Muscle Shoals, with a huge program for developing the Tennessee river valley.

Banking Reforms
1. Authorized the president to declare a national holiday and appoint conservators to protect depositors in closed banks.
2. Enacted sweeping reforms, giving government greater power to control banks, compelling a divorce of investment and commercial banking and denying private bankers the right to take deposits.
3. Created a federal insurance to guarantee deposits, taking effect January and including state banks for two years.
4. Protected investing public by enacting a new national blue sky law.
5. Provided federal aid in refinancing mortgaged homes up to $20,000.

Taxation
1. Reenacted all of 1932 excise taxes for another year.
2. Increased gasoline tax to 1½ cents a gallon for one year.
3. Levied new and higher corporation taxes.
4. Maintained 1932 income taxes. With the adjournment of congress, the president steps automatically into the spotlight. The stage will be his—and the nation will be his audience.

WEDDING RING IS BURIED 42 YEARS

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., June 15.—Despite the fact that it had remained in the ground for 42 years, a gold wedding ring bearing the inscription "S. Kaulner, '88," found by Miss Belle Dawson in the garden of her home, was in good condition. Miss Dawson, knowing Faulkner, took the ring to him. He told her he lost it 42 years ago when he lived in the house now occupied by the woman.

Camping Jamboree Plans Completed

Boy Scouts Of County Will Compete In Two-Day Meet At Camp

The annual camping jamboree of the Lawrence county council will be held on Friday and Saturday of this week at Camp Phillips, teams being asked to report for inspection at 4 p. m., last time, Friday afternoon. Indications point to a good turnout, and while no special award is offered, outside the glory of being known as the 1933 camping champions, there is always keen competition in this. Kiwanis troop V-37 won last year, with V-15 of the First Christian a close runner-up. This year there are several other patrols who intend to make a good run for the title, and it looks as if Scout Executive Chester Childs of Mercer county, who will act as chief judge, will have a real job in picking a winner.

Camp Rentz Leaders Plan Vacation For Y. M. Boys

Twenty-five local boys had placed their names on the Camp Fred L. Rentz application register on Wednesday, as a group of men went about making improvements at the Y. M. C. A. camp grounds for the opening of the 1933 vacation season on July 11.

Almost a month remains before the campers begin their annual romp, but the camp quota, it appears, will be reached long before that time if registration proceeds as heavily as it has been. Fifty-six of the 120 boy-weeks have been reserved.

Plan 3-Week Season
The Y's board of directors has set 40-per-week as the goal for the camp, with three weeks of operation. Many who have signed for the first week intend to remain for the second and third as well.

The counselor system will be inaugurated this year in the management of the boys, a new departure from other years.

Boys who will help camp officers administer the program as counselors will be Frank Baldwin, Heber Baldwin, Robert Muse, Gethin Thomas and David Gatrall. The five have grown up in Y. M. C. A. classes and have unquestionable religious and leadership background.

Each counselor will lead a different group, instructing boys in nature study, bird lore, educational talks and other subjects to fill their spare hours.

Mrs. Ella Spicer will cook for the campers this year. She will have an assistant. Daily menus are planned in advance to assure the boys the right food varieties.

Swimming this year, as in the past will be rigidly supervised. When high water comes, swimming is abandoned.

She will be attended by princesses chosen from 13 colleges of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Miss Temperton is a sophomore in Beaver college, Jenkintown, Pa.

Unique Names Are Common Among Pennsylvania Towns

Municipalities bearing names that are odd and unusual altho common place enough to the persons who live there, are found in all parts of Pennsylvania.

Prosperity, in Washington county, for instance, finds itself aptly labeled now that President Roosevelt is working hard to bring back that almost forgotten economic state.

One of the most unusual is Ono, the little Lebanon County town whose early inhabitants couldn't find a name. To every suggestion some one would reply: "Oh, no. There's already a town by that name."

That gave some one an idea. So they called it Ono.

The most widely known of all unusually named Pennsylvania towns is Punxsutawney, in Jefferson county, where the groundhog always sees his shadow, or fails to, on "Groundhog Day."

To match Punxsutawney, this state has Wapwallopen and Conshohocken and Goshenhoppen and Womelsdorff and Tulpehocken and Zellenople and Conoquenessing and Neshaunmy and Toughkenamon.

Addressing letters to Quakake and Tiadaghton and Pocopsin and Tredyffrin is no easy matter.

A student of the wet-and-dry questions finds Scotch Hill and Dryville and Showers and the various springs: Roaring, Boiling, Sinking, Chest and Crystal.

The financial angle is to be found in Coupon and Frugality. Down in Delaware County is Darling.

A number of historical factors contributed to give Pennsylvania her unusual place names. Many of the names are taken directly from the Indians and other towns were named for some significant event that took place there. Many of the odd names were originated by the Pennsylvania Germans.

There will be instrumental and vocal music tonight and the meeting starts at nine o'clock fast time.

DENY REPORTS OF KIDNAP THREAT

No Foundation To Report Of Threat To Kidnap Jas. Roosevelt's Daughter

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Complete denial of reports that a threat had been received by James Roosevelt to kidnap his daughter, Sarah Delano Roosevelt, came from the White House following publication of the abduction threat in a Boston newspaper.

The denial was made by Stephen T. Early, presidential secretary, after a conference with the President. Early also said that James had talked to his father on the phone and denied the Boston reports to the President.

Early said: "The President was told by his son, James, that he had learned reports were being circulated that an abduction threat had been made against his daughter, Sarah, but that they were without foundation and that he was making a flat denial."

Pheasant Egg Production Is Now At 50,000

Production At Jordan Game
Farm Much Higher Than Last Year

YOUNG PHEASANTS ARE GETTING ALONG NICELY

Ringnecked pheasant eggs gathered at the Jordan State Game farm last Sunday brought the season's Ringneck egg production over fifty thousand, which is 5,000 more than were produced to this date last year. While the peak has been passed, production is still going strong and present indications are that the season's total will be several thousand eggs over the number produced last year, which broke all records up to that time.

The laying pheasants are in fine physical condition for the last part of such a heavy laying period.

The young pheasants are growing nicely in the new brooding equipment, and more eggs are being set as fast as the hatches come off to allow room in the incubators. With the extremely wet weather during the time the first few hatches came off, the Game Commission feels fortunate that it decided upon the new equipment in time to get it installed and operating this season.
Under the old method of placing the young birds out on the ground with the chicken hens, it would have been impossible to raise more than twenty-five per cent of them.

Urge Pinchot To Call For Special Assembly Session

Would Have Lawmakers Of State Fix Old Age Pensions And Appropriations

PINCHOT REFUSES TO GIVE COMMENT

By WILLIAM J. KELLY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, June 15.—The possibility of an early special session of Pennsylvania's General Assembly to consider social legislation, including old age pensions, was disclosed today by Gov. Clifford Pinchot, who has been silent on the possibility of an extraordinary session, attended a conference with officials of the reconstruction finance corporation in Washington, Wednesday.

Considerable Pressure
He has been subjected to considerable pressure since the adjournment on May 5. The urge for a special session has come chiefly from advocates of old age pensions. Unless these proposed amendments are adopted by the Senate before early in August, they cannot be submitted to the voters in November because all amendments must be advertised 90 days before an election. Further amendments, after this year, may not be submitted until 1938.

The old age pension amendments were passed by the House but died in Senate committee during the regular assembly.

Will Be Brief
According to political observers, the session, if called, will be brief and confined to a few subjects including pensions, sweatshop and minimum wage legislation, and possibly an additional appropriation to enable the Department of Labor and Industry to continue factory inspections.

It is understood that the governor's principal objection to the session is its cost. Were he to issue the proclamation for next month, and if the $25,000,000 bond issue met defeat in November, it would mean at least one more extraordinary session before Governor Pinchot's term expires in January, 1935.

The condition of the general fund also has caused some alarm among state officials. Because of the heavy drain for unemployment relief and a decline in collections during summer months, the fund may be at an abnormally low ebb by fall.

FIND MORE INTEREST IN HORSE BREEDING

HARRISBURG, June 15.—Interest in breeding good horses is on the increase in Pennsylvania. The bureau of animal industry,

State Department of Agriculture, reports twenty-three per cent. more stallions licensed during the first four months this year than during the corresponding period last year. Records show that several stallions of outstanding blood lines have been brought into Pennsylvania in recent months, and that inquiries for good pure bred mares are becoming more frequent.

FEWER SKILLED WORKERS
HARRISBURG—A study completed by the Bureau of Employment, from information compiled by the district offices of the State Employment Bureau, discloses that few men have been trained in any industrial trade during the past four years. It is very probable. A. W.

Motley, director of the bureau, says, that a shortage of skilled men will develop when industry gets back to normal.

Ask Britain To End Embargo On
Russian Goods

Soviet Commissar Hands
Resolution To Premier
MacDonald At Conference

BOLD ATTEMPT BY SOVIET OFFICIALS

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 15.—A bold attempt within the world economic conference to end the British trade embargo against Russian goods was made today by Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs. Calling Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald from the conference chamber, Litvinoff handed him a draft resolution proposing worldwide abolition of all discriminatory tariffs and trade boycotts such as those Britain is enforcing against Soviet Russia and the Irish Free State.

Litvinoff suggested the resolution be considered as part of the general tariff treaty which Secretary of State Cordell Hull, chief American delegate, was supposed to have proposed but which has been temporarily shelved.

The British embargo against Soviet goods was proclaimed when the Russian government refused to release six British engineers arrested and tried for espionage and sabotage.

Washington Is Notified That
French Government Cannot Pay On War Debt

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—France today officially notified the United States of its intention to default on the $40,000,000 French debt payment due this government. Notification of the French intention to default was made known in a formal note delivered to acting Secretary of State Phillips by Andre De Laboulaye, French ambassador.

The note, it was understood, stated that France considered the debt situation remains the same as it was last December, when the French government defaulted on the $19,261,432 payment due at that time. The French note was transmitted to the White House almost immediately.

BOSTON, Mass., June 15.—Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, received word from William Harridge, president of the American league, today that he had been suspended for three days for talking harshly to umpire Bill Summers in the seventh inning of yesterday's ball game with the Red Sox.

McCarthy was put off the field along with Lou Gehrig for protesting that Rick Farrell had run out of line to evade a put out. Gehrig was not suspended. If he had been, his string of 1,249 consecutive games would be broken. Arthur Fletcher took charge of the team today.

But your own happiness in life is your own problem. You don't have Cinderella's slipper nor Alladin's lamp. Your success must be built on modern magic servants.

Small Nations
Seek To Force
Debt Issue, Too

(International News Service)
Despite the fact that the foreign debt issue is not on the agenda of the world economic conference, representatives of smaller powers, following the lead of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald of England, insisted upon injecting the issue into the deliberations today.

The chief delegate of Estonia, which defaulted today on its comparatively small payment to the United States, declared for a "re-adjustment of international debts on the basis of present conditions." Even the delegate of little Venezuela, adopted similar tactics.

After this flood of oratory the conference adjourned until tomorrow. The United States, however, scored one victory in the election of James M. Cox, 1920 Democratic presidential nominee, to the chairmanship of the important monetary committee over the opposition of the French.

Congress Leader Pauses To Do 'Good Turn' For Scouts

Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey gave Grove City Scouts the thrill of their lives when he volunteered to christen their model ship, the "S. S. President Roosevelt," during his visit in Grove City yesterday.

Speaker Rainey, who with Lowell Thomas received an honorary degree at Grove City college commencement exercises, broke a bottle, containing water taken from both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, the Gulf of Mexico and the Great Lakes, over the bow of the boat.

The model cutter is the property of the Grove City Seascouts and stands on the college campus. It was named after the president.

The aged leader of the house praised scouting as he stood before a distinguished throng. He told them "I was 74 years old before I started to smoke, and I haven't started to drink yet."

As the congressman spoke from the ship's deck, Congressman Thomas Cochran, Skipper William Dobson, Mate Ralph Rainey of Grove City and seascout directors of New Castle and other western Pennsylvania cities stood close by.

WARN AGAINST GIVING

SMALL BOYS A "LIFT"

HARRISBURG, June 15.—Motorists are asked by the State Highway Patrol not to give strange small boys a "lift." Here's the official reason: "Vacation time soon will be here. The wanderlust germ is dormant in every normal small boy. The combination of no school, warm days and the circus stirs the germ into activity. Don't satisfy this longing to go places. If you do you will be giving parents additional cause for worry and perhaps innocently lay yourself open to a kidnapping charge. Parents whose youngsters wander off should communicate at once with the nearest State Highway Patrol sub-station."

GIVE POISON WARNING

HARRISBURG—Citizens of Pennsylvania who are particularly susceptible to ivy poisoning, and who are likely to expose themselves to it, are advised to consult their personal physician relative to present-day methods of avoiding this poison by preventive and curative inoculations. This suggestion was made today by Dr. J. Moore Campbell, director of the State Health Department's bureau of communicable disease. Dr. Campbell indicated that a number of reports have already reached his office involving this type of poisoning in a serious form.

Smith, Harrisburg, secretary, the committee decided to spend the summer studying insurance laws and to hold hearings, if necessary, in the fall.

Retirement Fund

School Board Acts On Matter—

Required By State Law To

Make Payment

Expressing themselves as voting aye reluctantly, the members of the New Castle School Board on Wednesday night approved the payment of $9,532.60 to the Public School Retirement Fund. This is the fund that provides the retirement pay for teachers and other employees of the school district.

"We have to pay this money," said A. C. Hyde, "if we don't, the department will take it out of our appropriation so that we have no alternative. Other members of the board expressed themselves as dissatisfied as they voted aye, but did so because of no choice in the matter."

The bond of L. W. McClung, tax collector for the school board was approved in the amount of $100,000 when the company furnishing the bond provides a financial statement.

STUDY CHILDREN'S HEALTH

HARRISBURG—The State Health Department's corps of doctors and nurses which has been examining children in the two to ten-year group of those receiving food from the various community markets, are continuing their work this week in Coatesville. To date 3968 children within the classification have been examined in cities of four counties. The investigation involves a checkup on the physical conditions at the time the community market becomes available, which is followed by a re-examination six weeks later. This activity will continue throughout the summer months.

combination of no school, warm days and the circus stirs the germ into activity. Don't satisfy this longing to go places. Parents whose youngsters wander off should communicate at once with the nearest State Highway Patrol sub-station."

Liberal Trade-in Allowance for your old tires on ALLSTATE and SUPER ALLSTATE Balloons

In a 2-year road test of leading makes
Not One ALLSTATE Blew Out!

A marvelous Patent—
Superlastic Cords—ends "Blowout Zone"
Makes these tires STRETCH where others strain and break

MANY tire makers have striven to end blowouts and their dangers. For insurance records disclose that tire failure is a chief cause of fatal accidents. That whenever you drive over 35 an hour you are betting your life on your tires.

So tire makers have added plies, made rubber tougher, treads heavier, cords stronger. But tires continue to blow out.

Now Sears, in six million mile tests, has demonstrated that not strength alone, but STRETCH in the cords, is the way to make tires unblowable.

The reason is this: When a car is in motion, the tires flex up and down constantly. If the cords lack stretch, this forms a hinge on the sides,—frays them out—creates a "Blowout Zone." That's why 95% of the blowouts do not occur through the tread where wear is greatest,—but through the SIDES!

Hence for ALLSTATE Tires, a wholly new cord was invented—a marvelous Superlastic

Cord with 25% to 30% more stretch than average. It makes the ALLSTATE arch when it flexes—makes it "give" under shocks and stress—relieves the strain that breaks non-elastic cords.

Thus Superlastic Cords—a marvelous invention—now ends the blowout evil.

Sears makes this amazing announcement only after six million miles of tire testing. We wore out fleets of cars—on every car one ALLSTATE and three other standard tires. Not one ALLSTATE blew out! And ALLSTATES

Built of Superlastic Cords—25% to 30% more stretch—with Intra-woven Shock Breaker, 20% stronger than 2 extra plies

Kellogg
OF BATTLE CREEK

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Registration of passenger cars in Pennsylvania is definitely on the increase.

This increase has been going on for two months now after a continuous falling-off for fifteen months.

Whether this has any significance I do not know, but I sincerely hope and I am inclined to think that it means that we have hit the bottom of the depression and are on our way out.

The passenger car registration last May was 15.5 per cent greater than in May, 1932.

The number of drivers licensed in May also increased. The increase was 27 per cent greater than in the same month in 1932.

Whether or not these facts mean much from an economic standpoint, they certainly do mean a lot from the safety viewpoint. More cars and more drivers will lead to more accidents unless we are more careful.

The Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety is just a year old. It was created last June in an effort to meet the problem arising from the growing casualty list from automobile accidents in Pennsylvania.

The committee started out to educate motorists in the simple rudiments of safe driving. The committee helped to organize the School Boys Safety Patrols. I am confident that these patrols have saved the lives and limbs of many school children.

The State Highway Patrol and the Department of Public Instruction cooperated in this School Boy Safety Patrol campaign and made it one of the biggest safety factors in the state not only for the present but for the future, for the school children of tomorrow. If we can keep them safely-minded during school days, most of them are going to be safe drivers in the future.

We cannot expect youngsters to continue to practice safety unless their parents and others set them a good example. Throughout the year, the Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety has been striving to instill the need for highway safety and consideration of the rights of the other fellow into the minds of the licensed operators. It has done this through safety meetings and by radio addresses. The newspapers of the state have cooperated in a splendid manner. They have contributed valuable space to the cause of Street and Highway Safety.

During the recent session of the Legislature a bill was passed which we hope will be a great help in reducing automobile accidents. It does not go into effect until next January.

After that date motorists who have had accident records, who have had their licenses suspended or revoked, or who have failed to pay judgments arising out of automobile accidents, may not be licensed without proving their financial responsibility. Proof of financial responsibility may take one of three forms—a cash deposit of $11,000 with the Secretary of Revenue, a Surety Bond for that amount, or a standard $5,000—$10,000 liability insurance policy with $1,000 coverage for property damage.

The point of this new law is that the motorist who goes out and causes death or injury or property damage will not be permitted to run loose on the highways until he has paid for the trouble he has already caused and guarantees payment for any future trouble.

But, of course, we can't force people to be careful. But we can punish carelessness and we can try to teach people to be careful.

If every Pennsylvania driver will make himself a committee of one on highway safety, we will get somewhere in reducing accidents and saving life. The State Government is doing its part in trying to make our highways safer for yourself and your children. The Highway Patrol is on the job 24 hours every day. Cooperate with it. Obey the law. That sums up all safety propaganda.

Practicing highway safety is a job for every car owner and driver. We here in Harrisburg are helpless unless we have your help. If every operator would follow the advice of the Governor's Committee, "Take Time To Be Safe", and obey the law, Pennsylvania's accident record would show a steady decline. We can legislate safety and we can preach safety but we will get nowhere unless drivers and pedestrians practice safety.

Every Pennsylvanian hopes for a steady increase in car and driver registration, and a steady decrease in accidents. And it can be done!

SCHOOL AIDES CUT IN NUMBER

Legislature Reduces Assistant Superintendents From 105 To 79

HARRISBURG, June 15.—A bill signed recently by Governor Pinchot provides for a reduction in the number of assistant county school superintendents after the next school year, and a 10 per cent reduction in minimum salaries for all county and assistant county superintendents for their four-year terms beginning July 1, 1934.

This economy measure will save the state more than $100,000 for the year 1934-35, for it also reduces the number of assistant county school superintendents from 105 to 79.

A proposal to reduce salaries of these school officers by 20 per cent for one year at the end of their present terms in June, 1934, was changed in the last days of the legislative session to provide for the 10 per cent cut for the next term of four years.

Counties with fewer than 150 teachers under supervision of the county superintendent are not entitled to any assistant superintendents. Counties with more than 150 teachers and not more than 550 teachers under the superintendent may have one assistant county superintendent; counties having between 550 and 1050 teachers are entitled to two assistants. Counties having more than 1050 teachers may have one additional assistant for each additional 500 teachers or fraction thereof. No county superintendent is allowed more than five assistants. Only one county, Allegheny, will be entitled to the full quota of five assistant county superintendents.

White Protests Dropping West Side Car Line

Tells State Commission Only Temporary Permit Should Be Given

White Protests—7 (International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 15.—Abandonment of street railway service on the West Washington street line from the public square to the city limits of New Castle was protested by City Solicitor Robert White of that city, at a Public Service Commission hearing here Wednesday afternoon.

White argued that the street car company, the New Castle Electric Street Railway company, should be granted only temporary permission to drop service on this route. The street car company seeks permanent abandonment of the route. Following the street railway hearing, a n unopposed application brought to the commission by the Penn-Ohio Coach Lines company asked permission to establish a bus route from Grant and Sampson street, on Sampson to State to Greenwood to West Washington, to the city limits.

At the same time, the Penn-Ohio coach system asks permission of the commission to abandon its motor bus service over Sampson street from the corner of Grant and Sampson to the corner of Sampson and Emery streets in the city of New Castle.

All applications were taken under advisement here this afternoon by Public Service Commissioner Samuel Walker who presided at the hearings today.

USE OF SALT ON LAND NOT ILLEGAL HARRISBURG, June 15.—"Is it a violation of the law to put salt on the land?" This is a question frequently asked the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, indicating that the question is a common one in many sections of the State. An investigation of the statutes relating to agriculture, revealed no law of this nature in effect at the present time. As someone has aptly put it, help a man out of trouble and he will not forget you when he gets into trouble again.

ELECT FOUR NEW TEACHERS FOR SCHOOLS

School Board Fills Vacancies

Long Executive Session Held
Wednesday To Discuss
Applicants

SUPERINTENDENT'S SELECTIONS TAKEN

Teachers Must Present Evidence
Of Having Paid
Taxes In Future

Meeting of the executive session, behind closed doors, the New Castle School Board elected four new teachers Wednesday night, re-instated eight teachers who were not elected at the last meeting whose names appeared on the exoneration list presented by City Treasurer L. W. McClung, and after two hours and a quarter of discussion resumed business as an open board.

The motion for the executive session was made by Director A. C. Hyde who said he thought the board should have an opportunity for a "free discussion" of candidates for teaching positions. At the previous meeting Superintendent C. G. Green had suggested that inasmuch as there were so many candidates and so few positions, that perhaps the board should look over the candidates and recommend teachers, a function ordinarily performed by the superintendent.

Back To Superintendent
While in executive session the board went into the Committee of the Whole, which was also behind closed doors, but from the sounds emanating from the board room the meeting was not entirely harmonious. Candidates were discussed but the board did not recommend and teachers on its own, taking a list of four recommended by the superintendent. Following the resumption of an open session the board elected the teachers, and then passed a resolution putting the responsibility of teacher selection back where it has been for ten years, with the superintendent.

The four new teachers elected are Mildred Lusk, for Intermediate Academic work in the Thaddeus Stevens School at $800; Ida Wester, elementary science and geography at Rose Avenue at $800; Iva Mayberry, music and academic studies at George Washington at $1040; and Clara Tranquillo, typewriting and junior business training at Benjamin Franklin Junior High school at $800.

Take Up Tax Matter
Still behind closed doors, the board took up the matter of those teachers whose names appeared upon the exoneration list of personal taxes presented to the board by city treasurer. These teachers had not been elected in the special meeting two weeks ago and were held up to await some reasons why they had not paid their personal taxes.

Apparently the reasons presented were satisfactory to the board in its star chamber session for upon motion they were elected in the open meeting with but one dissenting vote. This was the vote of J. Herbert McIlvenny.

"I could vote for a part of this list, for their excuses were reasonable," said he "but I cannot vote for some others because their excuses are not reasonable and therefore I vote 'No'."

No Good Excuse
Asked later what he meant by this Mr. McIlvenny said: "there were three names on the list that had reasonable excuses why their personal taxes were not paid. These I can accept. However I cannot accept the excuse that the teacher forgot to pay, or that he or she was not assessed, or that they had moved and did not receive a card. One letter of excuse frankly admitted it was a poor alibi offered. It seems to me that teachers should see to it that they are assessed, and whether they receive cards or not, they know the taxes are to be paid and should see to it that they are paid."

The matter was further disposed of later in the meeting when A. C. Hyde presented a resolution which made it imperative in the future any teacher, janitor, clerk or other employee of the school board must present evidence of having paid his personal taxes for the preceding year before being given a contract for the coming year. This is a standing resolution and will govern all future elections.

There are no teachers now in the system who have not paid their personal taxes for 1932 L. W. McClung reports.

William Mellon Being Sued For Evading Taxes

Former Senate Banking Investigator Starts Suit Against Pittsburgher

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 15.—William L. Mellon, president of the Gulf Oil Corporation and nephew of former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, Wednesday was sued in federal court here for alleged evasion of income taxes amounting to more than $2,000,000.

A. Olson, former senate banking investigator, through Attorney Charles A. Russell of Washington, his counsel.

Olson filed the suit as a citizen of the United States on behalf of the government. Under an old law he is entitled to collect half any amount the government obtains from the suit.

The petition asks double the amount of the alleged unpaid taxes, or approximately $4,000,000—plus penalties totaling about $10,000.

Olson's petition charges Mellon with omitting from income tax reports from 1926 to 1930 inclusive a total of 73,000 shares of Gulf stock valued at $8,082,536, which were voted him by the company's board of directors for his services.

The suit further asserts Mellon deducted $750,000 from his tax returns, alleging the deduction was for interest paid the Gulf Corporation on obligations of the president.

Olson's suit avers these obligations were false notes.

In the petition, Andrew W. Mellon is mentioned as the owner—during his incumbency as secretary of the treasury—of 1,500,000 of the 4,500,000 shares of Gulf stock. The suit said only 300,000 shares are held by the public.

No Comment

Pittsburg, June 15.—W. L. Mellon, president of Gulf Oil Corporation and nephew of former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, today refused, through his secretary, to comment on the suit filed in federal court here charging evasion of income taxes totaling $2,020,041. The suit asks damages of double the alleged loss.

The action was instituted late yesterday by Davis A. Olson, former Senate banking investigator, it was filed by Charles A. Russell, Washington, D. C., his counsel.

Open New Bridge At Wurttemberg

Second Bridge Is Completed And Open For Traffic To Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, June 15.—The second bridge at Wurttemberg was opened to traffic for the first time about 2:30 yesterday afternoon after several months of construction, thus opening a straight route into Ellwood City for residents of that section.

The bridge which was constructed by the state and known as 350 1B span was practically finished Wednesday morning. All the steel work, concrete pouring, and painting is reported to have been done in a satisfactory manner, and was authorized for opening to traffic by state officials. The bridge is a steel structure double truss span, approximately 220 feet long with a 16 foot paved roadway and a 5 foot sidewalk. The abutments and flares are of concrete. The bridge and approaches cover approximately 1500 feet of roadway which eliminates short curves at both ends. It crosses the Slippery Rock creek on the Ellwood-Portersville road.

Due to the favorable weather of the past several days they have been able to go along at a fast pace and the bridge thrown open to traffic yesterday. Officials of the Cline Construction of Butler report that a considerable amount of traffic has gone over the new bridge since its opening Wednesday afternoon.

The opening of this bridge does not yet open an easier way to Portersville. The 350-1A span, or the third bridge at Wurttemberg will not be completed until early in the fall. Therefore traffic to Portersville will have to detour by way of the Ellwood-New Castle road and Dick Victor's camp road or the detour on the Zelenople road.

Work on this construction, which is less than a half-mile from second bridge, is progressing at a fast pace and may be completed sooner than expected if the present good weather continues.

Chicago Real Estate Dealer Shot To Death

Wife Finds Body Of Slain Husband In Kitchen Of Home, Four Bullets Fatal

POLICE HUNTING POSSIBLE CLUES

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 15.—The murder of Oscar W. Nelson, real estate dealer found shot to death in his home at midnight, puzzled police today as they searched for possible clues.

His body was found in the kitchen by the wife and her 13 year old son Walter, when they returned home from the theatre. Four .45 calibre bullets had pierced Nelson's body.

On her arrival Mrs. Nelson found the house locked and there was no sign of a struggle.

Police expressed the theory that Nelson was murdered by a man with whom he had been conferring during the night. There were two overturned glasses on the table and numerous cigarette stubs. He apparently had been drinking with his slayer.

Detectives, upon learning that the real estate dealer had handled many foreclosure suits recently, considered the possibility that some property owner named in a foreclosure action had become angered and committed the murder.

Painting Supplies Bought By Board

Painters Present Protest Against Painting Being Done By Janitors

Through a battle that developed between rival lead manufacturing companies in the past three days, the New Castle School Board got the benefit of the lowest price it ever got for white lead at the meeting of the School Board on Wednesday night.

Bids had been asked for painting supplies, among them 2500 pounds of white lead, Dutch Boy or equal specified. The bid was awarded to Spencer Paint and Glass Company at their price of $8.60 per hundred pounds, said by painters to be a car load rate for distributors. Nine bidders presented prices.

Two barrels of raw linseed oil was awarded to D. G. Ramsey and Sons, at their bid of 75 cents per gallon. Two barrels of pure gum turpentine went to Meyer and Weller at a bid of 55 cents per gallon. This firm also got the contract for 25 quarts of Japan dryer at a price of 22 1/2 cents per quart in gallon lots.

Elliott and Washington received the contract for 40 pounds of lamp black ground in oil at a price of 20 cents per pound and for 20 pounds of raw sienna at a price of twenty cents per pound.

The matter of painting brought a protest from F. J. Nolte and Ralph Campbell, painting contractors who were present. "I speak for the painters of New Castle" said Mr. Nolte. "In doing your painting around buildings this summer, why not give the jobs to painters instead of having the janitors doing it? By making work for tax payers you get your taxes in to run the schools. Compare the work of a professional painter with that of a maintainer and you'll find that the work is done cheaper and better."

"If you think the quality is cheapened by competitive bids, then buy the material yourself and let the work out by the day to painters. are out of work."

It isn't fair to have the janitors do the work when painters are out of work."

The board took no action upon the protest of Mr. Nolte.

Glass And Reed To Stage Debate On Debt Question

Senator David A. Reed Accepts Challenge From Virginia Senator For Debate

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—One of the greatest debates of all time was promised today after Senator David A. Reed accepted the challenge of Senator Carter Glass for a discussion of the propriety of scaling down the foreign debts.

The position of both is clear cut. Reed, brilliant and conservative Pennsylvania Republican, a world war veteran, demands payment or default of war debt instalments due today. Glass, fiery, acid tongued Virginia Democrat, favors downward revision of the debts.

The two will clash whenever President Roosevelt sends to congress any proposal to revise debts downward.

Glass takes the position that this country made great sums of money out of the war debts. He derides the man who seeks a dollar for fighting for his country.

Reed takes exactly the opposite view. He feels America poured her money into Europe to help European nations, not this country. He thinks Europe has been ungrateful and has "dishonored" her promises.

DOLLAR SHOWS DECIDED RALLY

Reports From London And Other Money Markets Brings Rally In Dollar

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 15.—Reports from both London and Paris of progress in the move to stabilize currencies brought another sharp rally in the dollar against foreign currencies on the local foreign exchange market today.

Sterling slumped 5 1/2 cents to $4.07 1/2. This compares with the high of $4.19 1/2 established on Monday.

Currencies Drop
European gold currencies dropped precipitously, with the guilder leading the decline. Guilders sold down 71 points to 48.34. Francs were down 6 1/2 points to 4.73 1/2; belgas 29 points to 16.81, and Swiss francs 32 points to 23.23.

Marks again featured the restricted gold currencies with a 45 point decline to 28.45, while lire and pesetas lost 9 1/2 and 12 points, respectively.

The Scandinavian exchange dropped 39 points in sympathy with the break in the pound, but the Canadian dollar moved counter to the trend, gaining 5-16 of a cent at 89 11-16 cents.

Yankees Have Lost Stride

Yanks Only Two Games Ahead Of Washington And Are Playing Dumb Ball

GEHRIG IS CHASED FOR SQUAWKING

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 15.—The pennant chase in the American league is beginning to look like a race instead of a runaway for the world's champion New York Yankees, odds-on favorites.

A week ago the Yanks apparently had the pennant lashed to the mast and were sighting for new world's to conquer. Today, defeated in six of their eight games since leaving home, they are fighting for a pitcher who can go nine innings. They are only two games ahead of Washington and the panic is still on.

Defensively, the McCarthy men are the worst club in the league at the moment. One of their best hurlers, Charley Ruffin, has a sore arm and their other starting pitchers are lasting about as long as a vacation romance. None of them has gone more than seven innings since the club event on the road.

Gehrig is chased. The tip off on the champs is that the trail-end Boston Red Sox, all people, have just beaten them in three out of four games. Yesterday the Sox clubbed Gomez, Brown, Penock and Moore for 15 hits and slaughtered the New Yorkers 13 to 5. The losers made four errors and played dumb ball in the bargain.

Even the Yankee veterans are unnerved by the slump. Lou Gehrig is running bases with no more judgment than an antelope, and yesterday Gehrig and Manager McCarthy, noted for their model deportment, were thrown out of the park for squawking over a decision. "Wild man" Parmelee of the New York Giants staked the Braves to five runs in the first inning when he walked five men. Adolfo Luque, venerable Cuban, came to the rescue and held Boston to two hits in seven innings, while New York came from behind to pound out an 8 to 5 victory.

Another brilliant mound performance was turned in by Charley Root of the Chicago Cubs, who held the Reds to two hits and beat them 7 to 0. No Cincinnati player got past second base.

Pirates Beaten
The Cardinals kept pace with the league leading Giants when Hallahan subdued Pittsburgh 3 to 2, squaring the series. Medwick's double in the sixth drove in the winning run.

Brooklyn broke its losing streak and regained sixth place by downing the Phillies, 6 to 3. Ray Benge pitched against his former mates and hung up his third straight win for the Dodgers. Benge, who was hit by Klein and Starnes, gave the Phils all their runs. Klein's circuit clout, his eleventh of the year, tied him with Berger for the lead in the National League home run derby.

Indians Defeated
After being held to one hit the day before, the St. Louis Browns lined out 15 blows and slaughtered the White Sox, 14 to 1. Bumps Hadley held Chicago to four hits. Fingo Marberry chalked up his ninth victory for Detroit by scalping Cleveland 13 to 2. Averill of Cleveland and Stone of Detroit each had a perfect day at bat with four hits including a homer.

The Athletics and Senators were not scheduled.

Heroes-Goats In Big League

(International News Service)
The hero, Charley Root, Cubs, held Cincinnati to two hits and scored 7 to 0 shutout, no redleg getting past second base. The goat, Babe Ruth, Yankees, struck out with bases full, threw to wrong base and missed a grand slam for a two-base error as Yankees went to pieces again and were swamped by Red Sox, 13 to 5.

Three Games In American Loop

Three Lawrence County League Games On Tap Today

COLORED MONARCHS CONTINUE IN LEAGUE

Figures in the American division of the Lawrence County Twilight baseball league probably will undergo a change today as three games are calendared. Games will be played between the Polish National alliance and Dewberys on the latter's field, Bessemer and West Pittsburgh at West Pittsburgh and the Tigers will clash with Castletown at Castletown.

Report of league officials that the Colored Monarchs have fallen by the wayside evidently is incorrect. According to information furnished today, The Monarchs according to their moguls are not out of the National division and will play the Mahoning A. A. June 15 on Cedar street grounds and Volant on June 16 on the same plate, and Mahoning on the E. and A. field Saturday.

The end of the first half in the National loop will come Saturday and the finish of the initial portion of the American division will come Tuesday. Owing to the first half finishing date all of the aggregations are anxious to make better their averages and indications are that the big crowds which have watched the games will continue to turn out the second half.

Mahoning has made a runaway of the National loop race with Orrs and Volant fighting hard for second place. The Monarchs have trailed the other teams. The race has been tight in the American division between the Tigers, Bessemer, Polish National alliance and West Pittsburgh. Castletown, which looked promising has been weak while Dewberys have not yet won a game.

ORRS DEFEAT ELLWOOD 9-1

Orr A. C. baseball team went to Ellwood City last evening and won from the fast Ellwood Merchants, 9 to 1. Gunnett on the hill for the Orrs was in fine shape and allowed only six scattered hits. Tonight the Orr A. C. will play the fast Greenville Oakhurst team at the Lehigh Field at 6:30 o'clock. The Greenville team is one of the best in Mercer county.

Shires, Wilson, Slade And Lindsay Must Be Released By Columbus Team

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., June 15.—Denying violation of the salary agreement of the American Association, George M. Trautman, president of the Columbus Red Birds baseball team, declared today that "every legitimate means" will be used by the Columbus club to substantiate its claim.

The Red Birds were found guilty yesterday at Indianapolis by the executive committee of the Association of violating the Association's salary agreement. The committee fined four players—Arthur Shires, first baseman; Charley Wilson, second baseman; Gordon Slade, shortstop; and Jim Lindsay, pitcher—must be released before Saturday.

Enon Valley Loses To Mahoning Nine
Mahoning Valleys defeated Enon Valley 11 to yesterday at Enon Valley field. Mahoning Valleys got 10 hits off Buck. Medved allowed four. Six errors were made behind Medved. Withrow, C. Lutton and Swagor poled triples and C. Cardella hit a home run.

Mah. Valleys.....333 030 1-11 10 1
Enon Valley.....000 004 4-4 4 6

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Because he had the courage to speak out loud and pick a "winner" of the recent Baer-Schmeling scrap, George Chip, the former champ who lost out on his prediction has been taking some good natured kidding but in or out of the ring George can take it and he's smiling.

The best of the boys who dabble with gloves or pen go wrong and is a cinch that were those who do not go on record to make a public guess some would hesitate. However, here's an opportunity: "Who's going to win the Carnera-Sharkey fight?"

Send your prediction of not more than 50 words to Ed. Fritz, sports editor, The News. In the 50 words express why "your man" will win. Every prediction must be signed. The address of the writer given. All will be published. Sharkey and Carnera are scheduled to toss gloves this month.

Max Baer, the heavyweight champion aspirant, will appear with Jack Dempsey, promoter tonight at Pittsburgh and indications are that a number of New Castle fans will be at the ringside.

Very few empty seats were to be had at the Shelby Social club when the amateurs expounded Biff and Bang, Monday night. The local junior waiter, Tony Adamo didn't have much opposition. He finished his opponent a la Jacques Dempsey style.

Messrs Daugherty and Beynon were the judges at the Ellwood City show. Those boys are in the game for the sport of the thing and their judging was all right. And by the way, Messrs Newman and Kellar were timers and referee, Fred Maestrom.

Remember Mike Kane who officiated as a deputy of Harvey Boyle at all of the bowl shows a few years ago. He has resigned that berth and is now attached to the department of revenue. Mike is also the justice of peace at Aliquippa.

Here's a story about Mike who in his day was as tough as they made 'em and he's still tough if anyone cares to ask us. Two wrestlers were going to wrestle at Aliquippa. That is where they were. Law to them meant nothing, so it appeared. They as much as told Michael so. He listened a little while to their chatter then pulled one of his half a dozen or more six shooters from a desk, laid one on a table and quietly remarked: "Boys, if I can't stop you this can." There was no bout that night.

Fans today will regret to hear that Joe Humphreys, famous announcer, suffered a paralytic stroke yesterday at Fairhaven, N. J. His right arm and side were paralyzed and doubts are expressed that he will ever be able to announce again. He announced at the Browning-Savoldi mat match and the Baer-Schmeling bouts recently. He was the chief figure in the aulogy given for the late William Muldoon.

The coming champ, as his friends call him, Max Baer will appear tonight at Pittsburgh. He will box several rounds in an exhibition bout and the magnet of the fistic age, Jack Dempsey, who made good in his first New York promotion will also be present. Jack will referee. There will be several battles on this card.

Southern Cal. Is Favored To Win In Chicago Meet

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 15.—On form it should be Southern California's show in the national collegiate track and field meet beginning tomorrow night, but it will have to be done on Soldier Field and against the hopes and even the determination of some 400 other collegiates who will be there.

And it may be that strong objections will be heard from Stanford, Michigan and Indiana. Stanford, of course, objected before, but the Trojans gave them little ear and even fewer of the points.

However, the domination of the Californians this time will get at least a sprawling challenge from such of the eastern, middle-west and southern stars who have shown to good advantage in the spring meets.

WATCH TIGRES IS WARNING HARRISBURG.—"For safety in moving, watch your tires," advises the Governor's committee on street and highway safety.

The Division of Safety, Department of Revenue, says that of 265,402 vehicles inspected during the recent compulsory inspection period, tires on 1213 were reported in poor condition.

WE KNOW TIRES inside and outside but we have never seen such outstanding tires as are the new Fatigue-proof Kelly-Springfields.

For over 39 years, Kelly-Springfield has been building quality tires—world-famous for their long wear and dependability. Now these foremost tire makers score another triumph for the car owner by developing tires six times fortified against destructive fatigue.

In designing these new tires, the Kelly-Springfield engineers accepted the scientific challenge that all living things get tired—even tires. The result is a never-before-known tire endurance, safety and long mileage—priced the same as ordinary tires.

Come in today—let us show you records of the dependability of these "tires that never get tired."

6 TIMES FORTIFIED

- 1 Coriscrow cotton—a Kelly-Springfield discovery...Seecre, expensive, far kinder than ordinary cotton...Only used in these tires...
- 2 Gum-inforced plies—an enormous improvement in tire building. Pure rubber compounds, under tons of pressure, forced right into the weave!...
- 3 Prime first rubber—only used in these tires—(There are five grades of raw rubber)—none of the cheaper, inferior grades used in other tires...
- 4 Vitalized rubber treads—bigger, deeper, thicker...New vulcanizing agents...New secret processes...Never-before-known mileage...
- 5 All non-skid—95% more non-skid than next best leading make—also, the most silent tires ever made...
- 6 Made by the new Monitor System—that controls every material and every process—then tested by mountain fleets on the world's toughest testing grounds.

Stock Market
Rather ErraticStrength Shown In Rails,
Traction And Oils
Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 15.—The stock market was another erratic two-sided affair today as pressure on the industrials and other boom leaders was offset by strength in the rails, traction and oils.

A fresh rally in the dollar brought heavy selling into the list at the opening. Losses quickly ran to more than 2 points led by such issues as Steel common, American Telephone, United Aircraft and Allied Chemicals.

Added unsettling influence were renewed weakness in commodities on the administration's reported decision to apply processing taxes on wheat and cotton and the veterans' deadlock in Washington.

The bulls, however, went into the rails and traction to stem the decline and were able to bring a rally at the end of the first hour. Building issues also were higher on passage of the public works bill while Chrysler was outstanding in the motors.

The oils were taken in hand and pushed higher in the second hour following the increase in prices in Texas.

GUILTY OF VIOLATING
STATE PURE FOOD ACT

J. M. Bellian of Wayne township was found guilty at county court this morning of violating the pure food act, in connection with the sale of milk. E. F. Garvey of the state department charged that the milk, which was tested in July, 1932, did not come up to the pure food standard at that time, contending that it had been watered.

Mrs. Bellian and her daughter, who operate the dairy, both testified that no water had ever been placed in the milk produced by them. Evidence showed that they operate a sterilizing plant, and that the milk of two other producers is sterilized in their plant.

GUILTY ONLY ON
PART OF CHARGE

Riley Cameron, charged with the larceny of some farm implements from the farm of Ada White, in Mahoning township, was found guilty at court on the first count, that of the larceny of a cultivator, but not guilty on the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth counts, which included other articles alleged to have been taken. Cameron was a tenant on the White farm and was alleged to have taken the implements with him when he moved.

Since Senate probe of J. P. Morgan & Co., George Whitney is recognized in Wall Street as the power behind the throne among the partners. He (center) and his family are shown. Testimony in the hearing indicated that Morgan's own sons, though partners, play minor roles in dramatic affairs of the firm and that Whitney knows more about concern's business than its czar. PRINT-LINEN COMBINATION NEW

In no other season have we seen the union of print and linen. In the first figure, left and seated, we see the combination in a brown and white printed dress with a string-colored linen coat faced with print. The correct costume to wear to weddings is shown next on the standing figure. The dress is navy with white polka dots and tiny cape bolero, white flower, large white hat and white gloves. Right is a loose back jacket suit, also of print. The flare of the jacket follows that of the skirt; inset above, printed gloves matching the dress, and the large hat is milan. (Courtesy Good Housekeeping)

RAISED SHOULDER LINES ARE FALLING DOWN

The raised shoulder lines are falling down, just like London bridge. From now on there will be a greater tendency to the dropped shoulder line. The epaulet, however, persists, as shown on the dress, left, which has triple epaulet, and simulated tunic with pleated fullness below. The second model is a dance frock with a ruffle finishing the skirt—a favorite style just now. The third dress has a deep flounce set in in godets, and the little accompanying jacket has deep five-tiered cuffs of white pique, and rhinestone buttons. The material is mousseline de soie. Right is a white linen dress topped by a navy linen jacket, both having a decidedly nautical air.

HOUSTON GIVES JOBLESS WORK ON $4,500,000 STATION

This imposing passenger station is to be erected, at Houston, Tex., as the result of a $1,200,000 work-loan granted the Southern Pacific railroad by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The project will provide work for approximately 1,000 men for a period of more than a year, exclusive of the many building craftsmen who will gain additional employment through supplying material to be used in the structure. It is estimated that the station will cost nearly $4,500,000 by the time it is finished. It will cover an area of nearly a block.

New School Text Book Is Adopted

Board Discusses Question At
Some Length At Meeting
Last Night

TWO OF BOARD DO NOT VOTE ON ISSUE

Whether the New Castle School Board is adopting text books for the schools in conformity with the school code occupied the attention of the board again on Wednesday night, the matter being brought up by A. C. Hyde when authority was asked for the purpose of 490 new text books for use in the coming school year.

"This is an adoption of text books" said Mr. Hyde "and I want to know again if we are adopting them legally. If we do not, then we can be surcharged for their cost. The law provides that the teachers shall go over the new text books. Was there a conference of teachers in the matter?"

Not Necessary
"That is not required by the school code" said Dr. Green. "The teachers look the books over, the principals look them over and present their recommendations to me. I also have looked the books over."

"Doesn't the board have something to say?" asked J. Herbert McIlvenny.

"The board has everything to say" said Dr. Green. "We merely recommend the books. Their purchase is entirely up to the board."

"We ought to know what we are putting in to the schools" said McIlvenny. "How do we know what the teachers are teaching. Last year there was a teacher in the Senior High school who got clean out of the pasture. She was teaching her own opinions rather than what the books called for."

"What would you recommend?" asked Dr. Green.
"I would want to see the books," said McIlvenny.
"Dr. Green then went to his office and brought in a copy of the book under discussion, 'American People and Their Old World Ancestors,' published by Volentine, Ginn and Company."

"These books have been scrutinized by the teachers, the principals and myself," said Dr. Green. "For fifteen years we have been teaching 'European Background of History' in the sixth grade. This the State Department believes should be in the seventh grade. United States History has been in the seventh grade and the department wants it in the eighth. Thus this new book merely takes the place of a book that is not taken out of the system but is merely advanced a year."

Confidence In Teachers
"We are voting somewhat unintelligently in matters of this sort" said Mrs. John E. Elliott "but after all we must remember that we have confidence in our teachers and principals that they will select the type of book fitted to the child. If this change means that the course of study is being adopted more nearly to the child age, then I am for it. We have been pushing the youngsters too fast in school."

Hyde then brought up the fact that the budget statement shows that Senior High School, Mahoning and Washington schools are already over their budgetary allowance for text books, Senior $998.19, Mahoning $230.65 and Washington $124.25. "Won't they need any books for the second semester?" he asked.

"You can't always stay within a budget allowance" said President D. B. Woolcock.

"The estimates are made out too early by the principals for them to be absolutely correct" said Dr. Green.

The vote upon the motion to adopt was called and all but Hyde and McIlvenny voted aye, these two not voting at all.

Re-elect Flanagan To Head K. Of C.

St. Mary's Council Holds
Election Last Night; Plan Observance

Members of St. Mary's Council No. 512, Knights of Columbus, re-elected Thomas A. Flanagan as grand knight for the ensuing year when they gathered in their North Jefferson street home last night for the council's annual election of officers.

The grand knight and his brother officers will be formally inducted into office at a fitting ceremony to be held before July 1, the date when their terms begin.

Featuring the meeting last night were the discussions centering about the 50th anniversary program of the national Knights of Columbus, now being observed throughout the nation. St. Mary's council plans to issue an elaborate golden anniversary book and to hold fitting exercises later on.

With Grand Knight Flanagan, the officers chosen to serve next year were:

Deputy grand knight, Hugh M. Rocks; chancellor, William Carlin; warden, Hugh Daugherty; assistant warden, Ray Swords; treasurer, John Carlin; recorder, Joseph Guilfoyle; advocate, Robert Guinagh; inside guard, Francis Augustine; outside guard, P. J. Daugherty, and Frank Nugent, a trustee to serve for three years.

She—I'm in an awful fix. My husband has received an anonymous letter telling him of something I did before we were married. He—Then the best thing you can do is to confess and have it over with.

She—That's just it. He won't let me see the letter and I don't know what to confess.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But
Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle

The need for any fright seems to have passed. The possibility of an invasion of man eating insects has dissipated and that vicious looking flying elephant picked up on Neshannock avenue a few days ago turns out to be as harmless as a rabbit. It is a hellgramite.

Perhaps you knew. Norman Martin did at any rate and the matter is cleared up. Being acquainted with a lot of bugs, some of them by their first names, Mr. Martin recognized the description of the insect yesterday and knew it to be a hellgramite.

Our own idea of a hellgramite was something you fish with, which is right also, but it seems that after laying around in the water for about three years, a hellgramite gets ideas about leaving the old home and gets himself a pair of wings.

With the wings grown, the hellgramite takes off from the old homestead and heads out for the great open spaces, only to meet violent death all too often at the hands of voracious sparrows. Silly idea, but not so silly when you remember that when it is at home in the water it is the prey of fish and in the air the prey of birds.

Old Man Webster describes a hellgramite as a "neuropterous" insect, with a latin name of "corydalis cornuta." With a name like that it isn't much wonder it takes wings and flies away. And now boys and girls having described the insect for you, never mind telephoning in and explaining what it is.

Among the summer sports which can be listed as aggravating is that of firing the furnace in the middle of June.

The ultimate in gardens seems to have been reached on Bridge street. Bridge street, in case you don't know is that street which parallels the Neshannock river below Jefferson street. Here the residents have gardened right down the river bank almost to the waters edge and should a high water stage come, the folks down below New Castle would get a shower of vegetables in various stages of development.

Clark Buell (we nearly said Clark Gable) of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company is a garden inspector or something these days. One of his jobs has to do with the garden plots planted by employees of the corporation and with one of the plots on the West Side and the other on Cascade street he is kept busy hopping back and forth.

If you happen to meet any of the school board today and they have that tired look, don't jump to any false conclusions. They merely spent most of the night holding a meeting. For a time it seemed as though the board meetings could be gotten over by midnight, but the strain of holding a good record was too much.

James Roosevelt's Home Is Damaged

Fire Occasions $6,000 Loss At Home Of President's Oldest Son

(International News Service)

LITTLE BOARS HEAD, N. H., June 15.—While plans made today to repair the summer home of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, badly damaged by fire, denials were made to reports published by a Boston newspaper that the blaze was part of a "plot" to kidnap little Sara Delano Roosevelt, granddaughter of the president.

As he started for Washington to join his father on a vacation yachting cruise in New England waters, young Roosevelt branded the kidnapping report as "crazy, and without foundation."

The fire was discovered by one of the servants, who was preparing the house for the summer.

Fire departments from North Hampton, Hampton, Rye and Portsmouth responded to an alarm and confined the flames to the upper part of the house although the lower section was damaged by water. Damage was estimated at $6,000.
